

IMO Core Procedure

Powers intentional care through structured and organized data

Maximizing the value of your EHR investment

In order to get the most out of their EHRs, healthcare organizations must keep their data clean and organized for proper reimbursement, reporting and analytics. The do-it-yourself approach to this work is labor-intensive and frequently falls on clinicians, health information management (HIM) professionals, or IT analysts who then have less time to spend on their core responsibilities.

For those responsible for implementing cohesive institutional policies for procedure content within the EHR, keeping a comprehensive dictionary up-to-date with the latest procedure names and code changes can be a tremendous drain on resources. Maintaining procedure codes can be manually intensive and demands constant vigilance. And creating accurate procedure terminologies requires dedicated technical, clinical and coding expertise which many healthcare organizations simply do not have.

The IMO alternative

IMO Core Procedure is a medical procedure terminology solution that enables clinicians and healthcare IT professionals to select relevant and familiar procedure terms while mapping them to appropriate billing and reference codes. A team of credentialed HIM and laboratory professionals meticulously map codes to enhance the quality of procedure documentation in the EHR, providing clinicians with peace of mind, knowing that their clinical intent is not only captured, but also preserved, throughout the system.

IMO Core Procedure helps you:
